New Independent Living facility soon to open its doors

Ken Luchterhand
Staff Writer

The new Independent Living facility in the Wazee development is now ready to begin accepting applications. The building will be ready for occupancy very soon.

"We are just waiting to clear the Fire Inspection before we officially open the doors, which is scheduled for May 13," said Independent Living Division Director Tanya Kessen.

The contractor of the construction is Olympic Builders Inc. based out of Holmen, WI, with Steve McNulty as supervisor of the project.

They already have a list of 20 elders who are interested, Kessen said. Applications will be going out to these individuals this week as well as to all Ho-Chunk Branch Offices, Community Centers, TAU's and District Representatives. Interested tribal members can also contact Tanya Kessen for an application or with any inquiries.

The occupancy guidelines for the facility include, Ho-Chunk enrolled individuals or couples who are 55 years plus. For couples, at least one individual needs to meet the minimum guidelines.

"The location is important," Kessen said. "It is centrally located between the Mission and Sandpilow residential areas, where many of our Elders' families reside, it's a short walk to the new District 1 Community Center, and close to many other tribal resources. With that being said, I would like to see community living facilities like this in all Ho-Chunk communities. The whole concept of community living and the sense of connectedness it provides, fits within our Ho-Chunk ways. This facility will give our Elder residents an opportunity for social interaction, family gathering, and wellness activities."

The total area of the building is 10,000 square feet, financed with partial Ho-Chunk tribal dollars and the other part from an Indian Community Development Block Grant from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Amenities include a bedroom, access to outside by private door, 24-hour surveillance, and maintenance of the grounds, including snow removal.

"The whole concept of independent living is to make daily living as maintenance free as possible, to enrich the lives of our Elder residents, and to improve their health and safety," Kessen said. "However, it isn't for everyone, the units are small and someone would have to be okay with downsizing to make it work."

Each apartment has a kitchen; however, there is also a common kitchen and dining area in a central location, along with a living area for gatherings. This provides the ability to have social gatherings, which may include extended family.

Three clothes washers and dryers in the facility laundry room offer residents the ability to clean their clothes, all without cost except for the cost of detergent and fabric softener. There is a craft room that doubles as a storm shelter when severe weather makes an appearance. This room will primarily be used for sewing, beading, or any other activity the Elders would like to do.

An open house will be scheduled as soon as the building passes proper codes for inspection. At that time, community members will be invited to stop in and tour the facilities, as well as help name the facility. Kessen is also inviting any interested elder or community member to call her to schedule a private tour.

Each apartment has one bedroom, bathroom, kitchen and living room, along with a closet. The living area has a high angled ceiling with plenty of window area along the outside wall, offering a more spacious feeling.

The building has in-floor heat to keep the temperature stable, plus a forced-air induction system with individual thermostats.

At present, Kessen has an office in the Social Services building, but will have a permanent office at the facility

Thank you

Greetings, with genuine thankfulness.

We express our appreciation for all who attended our elder's 100th birthday on April 23rd. Thank you to all the workers who helped to make this honoring event a memorable day for our celebrity. When our elder was "keeping the beat" with the music, it was obvious she was enjoying very much this brief moment of time that made her forget any stress she might be feeling.

Thank you to the president's office for their assistance as well as the Tribal Aging Unit, thank you to Jon Greendeer for an outstanding presentation. Thank you to the "Little Thunder" singers for the beautiful Ho-Chunk music. We thank the cooks and her assistants for their work and the good food. Thanks to Brenda Brown for her tireless "running" to pull together all the things that need to be done for such an event. To those who could not make it but, wanted to thank you for your good wishes. Thank you for the gifts, cards and money that were given in the true Ho-Chunk spirit.

It is a true blessing to see the respect and genuine caring of any of our elders so we thank you all for honoring our elder on her landmark day.

"I place a high value on respecting and honoring our elders," Kessen said. "I'm excited to be part of a project that will enhance our elders' lives and strengthen their connections with their families, the community, and culture."

2018-2019 Indian Parents of the Year awarded to Ho-Chunk Nation's Curtis and Sheila White Eagle

Ardith Van Riper

Editor

The Wisconsin Indian Education Association (WIEA) Annual Awards Banquet was held on Saturday, April 27 at the Hotel Mead and Conference Center in Wisconsin Rapids, Wisc. Ho-Chunk Nation tribal members Curtis and Sheila White Eagle were awarded Indian Parents of the Year.

"Curtis and Sheila are a great example of what Native parents are and should be when talking about parent involvement," wrote Family Services Coordinator Heidi Elsen from Chahk Ha Chee (CHC) Nekoosa Head Start.

Curtis and Sheila White Eagle are from Nekoosa, Wisconsin and have three children ages 16, 5, and 4. They have been married since 2007 and have been together since 1996. They have a daughter and two sons.

WIEA accepted nominations for Indian Parents of the Year who serve as dedicated natural role models, who are consistently proactive and involved in their children's tribal cultural education, their academic school-based education, and their tribal community.

Further criteria included the parents must demonstrate a leadership role in community and education activities, serve as role models to other Indian parents and children through participation in community activities, active volunteer in school and community events, promotes American Indian culture and heritage throughout the community, and encourages parents and children to strive for personal excellence.

"Sheila had served as the CHC Head Start Parent Committee Chairperson in 2018. Sheila is now serving as the Vice Chair for this committee. Sheila has attended many Head Start events and shows other parents that her children's education matters," explained Elsen. "She is supportive and is a great resource for other parents."

"Curtis was awarded the 'Most Involved Dad' award in 2018," Elsen detailed. "And has attended every event and activity at Head Start again this year. He has chaperoned field trips and volunteered in the Head Start classroom numerous times. He has an amazing attitude towards life and is a calming strength around adverse situations that arise with small children. He has an infectious sense of humor and has a personal relationship with many of the Head Start children."

Heidi Elsen nominated Curtis and Sheila White Eagle for Indian Parents of the Year to the WIEA Annual Awards Committee. Nominations were open to American Indian and Alaskan Native parents living in Wisconsin. Award recipients were determined by an awards selection committee comprised of WIEA members.

WIEA's mission is to promote and support education and educationally related opportunities for American Indian people in Wisconsin. Tribal Nations in Wisconsin include Bad River Band of Lake Superior Chippewa, Brothertown Indians of Wisconsin, Forrest County Potawatomi, Ho-Chunk Nation, Lac Courte Oreilles Band of Lake Superior Chippewa, Lac du Flambeau Band of Lake Superior Chippewa, Menominee Indian Tribe of Wisconsin, Oneida Nation of Wisconsin, Red Cliff Band of Lake Superior Chippewa, Sokaogon (Mole Lake) Band of Lake Superior Chippewa, St. Croix Band of Lake Superior Chippewa, and Stockbridge-Munsee Band of the Mohican Nation.

Both Curtis and Sheila were surprised with the award and didn't know that they were nominated until a week or so before the Awards Banquet.

"I didn't even know that people noticed us. I was just surprised, and it made my heart happy, all of our hard work, that somebody is noticing," said Sheila White Eagle, daughter of the late Lambert Cleveland, Sr. and Lori Houghton.

"Yeah, somebody noticed and I'm sure there are probably more," said Curtis White Eagle, son of the late Daniel White Eagle III and Marilyn White Eagle.

The couple spoke about how their house is a playground for the neighborhood children and how they depend on other parents for parenting advice. They feel they have a great support system.

"I always grew up believing that it takes a village to raise a child," said Sheila, the Office Manager at the Nekoosa Tribal Aging Unit. "I've watched other parents around here raise their kids. I learn things from them."

"We have her mom and sister for support," said Curtis, a Youth Coordinator at the Nekoosa Youth Center. "I have a few brothers that have been staying with us. They would stay for a while and help support."

Curtis and Sheila experienced nine heartbreaking years of negative pregnancy tests and sought medical help to have another baby after their eldest was born. Sheila decided to change her lifestyle by becoming less stressed and healthier. Their doctors told them it would be a miracle, but they were later blessed with two more babies.

"I take extra care of them. I make sure they know we love them," said Sheila. "Life isn't always great. It's not always sunshine, but at the end of the day, I want our kids to know that we love them."

Heidi Elsen wrote, "Both of their boys have attended Head Start with exceptional attendance. This is a great testament to these parents. They have shown their children the importance of education by making sure their children attend daily."

Other Ho-Chunk Nation tribal members were recognized at the WIEA Awards Banquet in different categories. Those categories and individuals were: Outstanding American Indian Student of the Year, Pre-K through 3rd Grade, Eve Plentywolf – Ho-Chunk Nation, 3rd Grade, Humke Elementary School; Outstanding American Indian Student of the Year, 4th through 7th Grade, Kaelyn Chasenah – Ho-Chunk Nation, 7th Grade, John Edwards Middle School; and Outstanding American Indian Elder of the Year, Woodrow White – Ho-Chunk Nation.

The Awards Banquet was held in conjunction with the 2019 WIEA Conference "12 Nations, 2 Worlds, 1 People." WIEA was formally organized in 1985 by a group of concerned Indian Educators to carry on the efforts of the former Great Lakes Inter-Tribal Council Education subcommittee. The Association has seven regions throughout the state.

The couple nearly elected not to attend the Awards Banquet. The banquet was held on the same night as their daughter's prom and their daughter was planning on attending prom. Heidi Elsen urged the couple to go and explained the nomination for Indian Parents of the Year to Sheila.

"Whenever there is a need for assistance, these two usually come through and step up to the challenge," Heidi Elsen explained about Curtis and Sheila White Eagle.

Home healthcare nurse Kleinhenz honored with retirement party

Ken Luchterhand
Staff Writer

For several years, Diane Kleinhenz has taking care of the health needs of Ho-Chunk Elders as a Certified Nursing Assistant (CNA) home healthcare nurse.

Although she has truly enjoyed the time she has spent with her clients and the co-workers, she's decided it's time for her to announce her retirement.

To honor her dedication to the job and the people, a special farewell retirement party was held for Diane on May 3, her last day of work, at the Nekoosa Health Center. The staff and some of her clients were on hand to wish her well as she leaves her employment.

Those people who know her best provided a meal, a cake, and presents in her honor.

Diane grew up on a dairy farm near the Pittsville and Vesper area, a family of 10 children: seven girls and three boys. After graduation from Pittsville High School, she went on to work at a nursing home in 1977. She stayed with that job until 1990, when she met the man who would later become her husband. She then went to work for a homecare business in Marshfield.

The couple were married in 1993 and had children in 1994, so she stayed at home to raise the children until they reached preschool and kindergarten age.

In 2012, she got tired of working in the nursing home, so she applied for a job at the casino at the records room and mailroom, also for a Certified Nursing Assistant (CNA) with the Health Department. She got the CNA job and worked in Black River Falls for three years before being transferred to Nekoosa.

Meanwhile, her husband started a job with the railroad, so they moved from the City Point region to a house in Dexterville. She began working in a downtown building until the new Nekoosa Ho-Chunk Clinic facility was constructed and opened.

During her time as a CNA, she spent most of her time in the homes of her clients, seldom in the office.

In 2015, her husband was killed in an accident while helping a neighbor cut down some trees.

"Many of the Ho-Chunk people helped me deal with his death," Diane said. "They truly were my friends. That's when I learned a lot about the Ho-Chunk culture."

She is so close to her co-workers, they keep in contact even not when at work. She and her good friend and co-worker Pam Reimer, who is a Community Health Nurse, text each other during Packer games.

"We're really going to miss her," Reimer said. "She's been very dependable and her coworkers and clients like her. She's really good with change – she takes it really well."

Joy Light Storming is one her most dedicated Elder clients. She was present at Diane's retirement party to send along her best wishes.

"What we need in our Ho-Chunk people is assets. She is one of them. We need more people like her. She's made some good friends," Light Storming said. "We need to focus on the positive in people and we need to encourage other people to work in the health services."

"The CNAs dedicate themselves to their clients and do more than what is required of them," Reimer said. "They'll check on a prescription, take them to the pharmacy, and call them to check on them even on their day off."

Light Storming said the home health nurses often know more about the clients than the client's own family members.

"They're like your best friend. You ask them to do what you wouldn't ask a family member to do," Light Storming said.

During her retirement, Diane plans to watch her friends' children, go visiting and maybe do some traveling. She's also thinking about going to some games since she's an avid Packer fan.

Diane is grateful for her time with the Ho-Chunk people and her employment with the Nation.

"I enjoyed it. I learned so much about the Ho-Chunk culture. There is a special place in my heart for the people," Diane said. "It's been a lot of fun."

HCN squad car demolished in accident

Ken Luchterhand
Staff Writer

The day, Thursday, April 25, started out like any other day.

Soon that day turned to one with a huge misfortune.

Ho-Chunk Nation Police Officer Ryan Price was driving near Necedah when another driver ran a stop sign and slammed into the side of the squad car driven by Price.

The squad car was completely demolished, but Price was uninjured.

"This just goes to prove the importance of wearing seat belts," said Ho-Chunk Nation Police Chief Earl Lemieux. "You never know when you will be involved in an accident, so it's important to wear your seat belts at all times."

20th Annual Denim Day emphasizes correcting sexual assault misconceptions

Ken Luchterhand
Staff Writer

The Ho-Chunk Nation Domestic Abuse Division set up an informational booth on Wednesday, April 24 at the Tribal Office Building to promote the #DenimDay and Sexual Assault Awareness Month.

Anyone who stopped by the booth at the Tribal Office Building that day received a T-shirt. There were 45 T-shirts given out to people who stopped by the booth that day. Anyone who received a T-shirt was asked to take part in the picture for #DenimDay.

The Denim Day observance was inspired by a rape incident in 1992. A young 18-year-old Italian female was raped by her 45-year-old driving instructor and then abandoned in an alley. She reported the assault to the police and the instructor was later convicted of rape then sentenced to jail.

It was in 1999, that the instructor appealed that sentence which made its way to the Italian Supreme Court. It was in the Italian Supreme Court that that decision was overturned and the driving instructor was released. The Court released a statement supporting their decision to overturn that sentence, it states; "because the victim wore very, very tight jeans, she had to help him remove them . . . and by removing the jeans . . . it was no longer rape, but consensual sex."

Enraged by the verdict, the women of the Italian Parliament protested the "denim defense" by wearing jeans to work. It was in April 1999 that the first Denim Day was held in the United States.

For the last 20 years, Peace Over Violence has run its Denim Day campaign on a Wednesday in April in honor of Sexual Assault Awareness Month. The campaign began after a ruling by the Italian Supreme Court where rape conviction was overturned because the justices felt that since the victim was wearing tight jeans she must have helped the person who raped her remove her jeans, thereby implying consent.

"The hope is that anyone who stopped by the booth had the ability to look at the information set up, ask questions, and pick up some material to read over," said HCN Domestic Abuse Division Director Angela Ward. "The ability to bring awareness to the community regarding this issue is extremely important."

In sexual violence prevention and education campaigns, community members, elected officials, businesses, and students are asked to make a social statement with their fashion statement by wearing jeans on this day as a visible means to protest against the misconceptions that surround sexual violence.

Participants in the Denim Day event at the Tribal Office Building in Black River Falls display their new T-shirts.

A Denim Day display at the Siga Community Building in Potch-Chee-Nunk (Wittenberg) explains all the details of the event and sexual assault.

One of the T-shirts available to participants is designed with the words "Prevent Sexual Assault."

The message "Got Consent?" on a T-shirt sends a message of approval in relationships.

"Honor it!" tells participants to recognize Sexual Assault Awareness Month.

"Shatter the Silence," sends a message of speaking up about sexual assault.

New videos promote the benefits of wetlands and celebrate local wetland conservation efforts

May is American Wetlands Month. To celebrate, Wisconsin Wetlands Association (WWA) has debuted a new suite of educational videos designed to promote the many benefits wetlands provide to Wisconsin communities and to encourage and inspire more community-based wetland conservation work.

"Wetlands are among the most important parts of our landscape for providing natural benefits like flood abatement and clean water," says WWA's Outreach Programs Director Katie Beilfuss. "These videos will help communities understand how restoring wetlands can reduce floods, support wildlife, and keep our waters clean for fishing, swimming, boating, and drinking."

WWA produced six short videos, including:

Citizens in the small town of Stone Lake in Washburn County in NW Wisconsin came together to protect wetlands for the health of their lake.

The La Crosse River Marsh is right in the middle of the city. It not only reduces floods, cleans water, and provides wildlife habitat, it also bolsters the city's economy and quality of life.

Private landowners own 75% of Wisconsin's wetlands and play a vital role in maintaining and enhancing the natural benefits wetlands provide for us all.

- A white-board "explainer" video that uses simple illustrations and clear language to outline how wetlands manage water and support watershed health;

- A light-hearted documentary-style video featuring wetland conservation professionals explaining what wetlands are, why they matter, and how you can help protect them; and

- Four videos that tell the stories of Wisconsin landowners, farmers, and community groups protecting and caring for wetlands in Eau Claire, Plover, Stone Lake, and La Crosse.

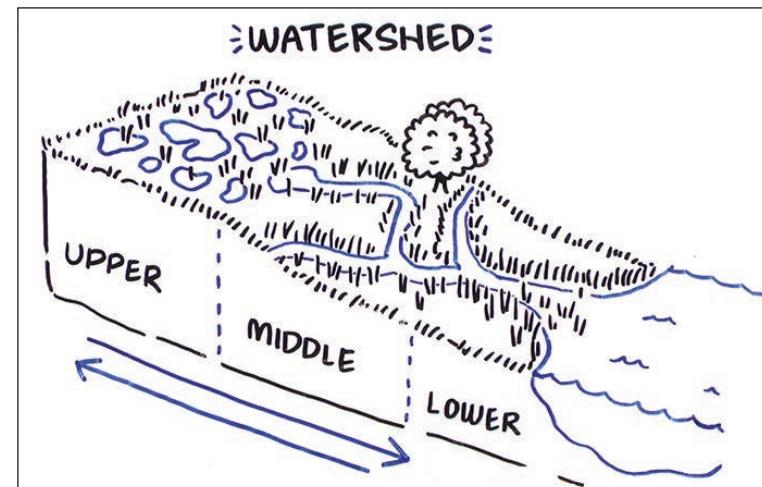

The videos will be widely distributed through a coordinated social media campaign throughout the month of May and are also available for free download and distribution. WWA has also created and posted a companion video outreach "toolkit" to help land use planners, natural resource managers, and educators incorporate the videos into public presentations and facilitate community conversations about local wetland conservation opportunities.

"We receive requests all the time from natural resource educators looking for tools to help them promote the importance of wetlands and the ways wetlands can be solutions to local water problems," says Beilfuss. "These videos help address that need."

To view the videos and find out how you can use them to help start and enrich conversations and programs that will improve the health of Wisconsin communities and natural resources, visit wisconsinwetlands.org/videos.

Ho-Chunk Nation Legislature puts Per Capita Distribution Ordinance out for 45-day comment

Submitted by Vicki Shisler,
Legislative Paralegal

The Ho-Chunk Nation Legislature has received numerous questions regarding the financial literacy portion of the Per Capita Distribution Ordinance (2 HCC § 12). Specifically, two questions have been presented:

1) does the financial literacy mandate, under the education requirements, extend to all graduating classes after the graduating class of 2017? and

2) if a tribal member fails to meet the educational requirement of obtaining a high school diploma by the age of 25, do they still need to complete the financial literacy piece in order to receive the money of their trust fund upon reaching 25?

As a little history, the Children's Trust Fund ("CTF") Task Force was created per legislative resolution on August 31, 2010. The CTF Task Force worked with the Hocak Worak to keep tribal membership updated on its work. Further, a public survey was done in the summer of 2012 to garner input on the Per Capita Distribution Ordinance. Input regarding criteria for minors was of particular interest. The survey garnered 466 responses. Survey responses were reviewed and various alternatives were discussed, including the addition of financial literacy requirements.

Additionally, the Legislature placed the Per Capita Distribution Ordinance out for a 90-day public comment period in January 2014. In February 2014, public forums were held with tribal membership in Black River Falls, Tomah, Baraboo, and Wittenberg to review the Ordinance and obtain feedback on potential amendments affecting the distribution of per capita funds to minors. Feedback was discussed, as well as proposed amendments to the Per Capita Distribution Ordinance, with the CTF Task Force on May 19, 2014. The conversation continued through various legislative meetings following the May 19, 2014 meeting.

RESOLUTION 11-18-14A
MOTION by Rep. Susan Waukon to adopt Resolution 11-18-14A, Amendments to the HCN Per Capita Distribution Ordinance, Adopting General Amendments and with the Financial Literacy Requirement, with an effective date of 2017, and language regarding the release of funds. Second by Rep. Hennig Garvin. 7- 5(VP Heather Cloud, Rep. Kathleen Whiterabbit, Rep. David Greendeer, Rep. Forrest Whiterabbit, and Rep. Robert TwoBears)-1 (Rep. Andrea Estebo). MOTION CARRIED.

Ultimately, on November 18, 2014, the Legislature adopted general and financial literacy amendments to the Ordinance.

The Ho-Chunk Nation Legislature would now appreciate comments from the tribal membership on how to address the above posed questions within the Ordinance. Two examples are provided to begin the conversation, but all thoughts and comments are welcome on the Ordinance as a whole. To submit comments please send to Legislative Paralegal Vicki Shisler at vicki.shisler@ho-chunk.com.

Last, the Legislature is aware of ongoing issues with trust funds and the Social Security Administration. These issues may require additional amendments to assist protecting tribal members, whom have trust funds and who need/receive social security. Continuing research is being done on how best to provide such protections.

Bald and Golden Eagle Protection Act and Migratory Bird Treaty Act; Religious Use of Feathers

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Petition for rulemaking; request for public comment.

SUMMARY: We, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (Service), have received a petition for rulemaking, which asks the Service to revise the existing rules pertaining to the religious use of federally protected bird feathers. The petition is being published pursuant to the terms of a settlement agreement entered into in 2016 by the United States with McAllen Grace Brethren Church and the Becket Fund for Religious Liberty. Any changes to existing rules will be subject to a public comment period, and tribal consultation consistent with Executive Order 13175 and the Department of the Interior Policy on Consultation with Indian Tribes. The Service seeks comments on the petition.

DATES: Comments must be submitted on or before July 1, 2019.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On July 26, 2018, the Service received a petition for rulemaking from Pastor Robert Soto, the lead plaintiff in McAllen Grace Brethren Church v. Jewell, No. 7:07-cv-060 (S.D. Tex. June 3, 2016) (hereinafter “McAllen”), and the Becket Fund for Religious Liberty, asking the Service to revise its existing rules pertaining to the religious use of federally protected bird feathers and parts for Native

Americans. The petitioners submitted the petition pursuant to paragraph 7 of the June 10, 2016, settlement agreement between the McAllen Plaintiffs and the United States, which states:

[The Secretary of the United States Department of the Interior (“Secretary”)] agrees to consider a petition under 43 CFR 14.2 from Plaintiffs to modify existing regulations or issue new regulations concerning the possession of eagle feathers by persons who are not members of federally recognized tribes. In considering the Petition, [the Secretary] agrees to issue a notice in the Federal Register requesting public comment on the petition. [The Secretary] agrees to make a decision on the petition within two years from the date it is received.

Petitioned Actions

The petition provides proposed regulatory text, which more broadly asks the Service to do four things:

(1) “Criminal possession ban:

Petitioners propose that the Department [of the Interior] promulgate the Morton Policy as a regulation, with one modification: that the policy apply to all sincere religious believers who use federally protected feathers in their religious exercise.” The “Morton Policy” is a Department of Justice enforcement policy that generally advises against prosecuting members of Federally Recognized Tribes who possess, travel with, or acquire or transfer without compensation eagle feathers. A Department of Justice memorandum concerning its application of the Morton Policy to Federally Recognized Tribes and a related 1975 press release by Secretary of the Interior Rogers C.B. Morton are available as indicated above in

ADDRESSES.

(2) “Protect Sincere Religious Believers: Members of a state or federally recognized Indian tribe, a Native American church, or other Native American religious organization should enjoy a presumption of sincerity; others should have the opportunity to demonstrate their sincerity in other ways.”

(3) “National Eagle Repository: The Department should reform the Repository by increasing its funding and staffing, working more closely with tribes and other stakeholders to improve efficiency, and adopting policies that will expand the overall supply of feathers. This will enable the Repository to better serve all sincere religious believers who use eagle feathers in their religious exercise.” Note that the draft regulatory language suggested by the petitioners specifically requests access to the Repository for all sincere religious believers. (See paragraph d. of the petitioned regulatory text, pp. 44–45 of the petition).

(4) “Combat commercialization and increase enforcement: Petitioners propose that the Department [of the Interior] engage in government-to-government consultations with federally recognized tribes on specific measures to help Native Americans detect and report suspected illegal commercial activities involving protected feathers.” (See pp. 3–4 of the petition).

Note that some of these requests are for administrative action and are not directly addressed in the regulatory language the petitioners propose. The petitioners’ proposed regulatory text can be found on pp. 44–45 of the petition, available at <http://www.regulations.gov> in Docket No. FWS-HQ-LE-2018-0078.

Public Comments

You may obtain the petition for rulemaking, and you must submit your comments and materials concerning this petition, by one of the methods described in ADDRESSES. The Service will not consider the petition’s merits until after the comment period ends on the date set forth in DATES. If the Service decides that the petition has merit, we may begin a rulemaking proceeding.

The Service will announce any action that we decide to take in the Federal Register.

We will not accept comments sent by email or fax or to an address not listed in ADDRESSES. If you submit a comment via <http://www.regulations.gov>, your entire comment—including any personal identifying information, such as your address, telephone number, or email address—will be posted on the website. When you submit a comment, the system receives it immediately.

However, the comment will not be publicly viewable until we post it, which might not occur until several days after submission. If you mail or hand-carry a hardcopy comment directly to us that includes personal information, you may request at the top of your document that we withhold this information from public review.

However, we cannot guarantee that we will be able to do so. To ensure that all comments that we receive are publicly available, we will post all hardcopy comments on <http://www.regulations.gov>.

Administrative Procedure Act

Under the Administrative Procedure Act, any person may petition for the issuance, amendment, or repeal of a rule (5 U.S.C. 553(e)). The petition will be given prompt consideration, and the petitioner will be notified promptly of action taken. A petition for rulemaking may be published in the Federal Register if the official responsible for acting on the petition determines that public comment may aid in consideration of the petition.

Dated: March 25, 2019.

Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary, Exercising the Authority of the Assistant Secretary for Fish and Wildlife and Parks.

Levi Thunder Sr., Wak Waxopini

Levi Thunder, Wak Waxopini, 75, of Fairchild, passed away early Tuesday morning April 23, 2019, surrounded by family at Mayo Clinic Health System-Eau Claire.

Levi Harry Thunder was born in LaCrosse, WI, on Feb. 1, 1944 to Frank B. and Mary (GreenCrow) Thunder. As a small child Levi lived with his family in Holman and Wisconsin Dells before moving to Fairchild in 1947, where he attended elementary school and graduated from Fairchild High School in 1962. He was united in marriage to Susan Garvin on June 23, 1964, in Fairchild. The couple lived in Nekoosa, before moving to Osseo in 1980, and then to Fairchild in 1985. For 28 years Levi worked throughout the mid west as an iron worker and was a member of the Iron Workers Union Local 383 out of Madison. He retired in 2003 and since that time had worked part time for the Ho-Chunk Nation. Levi was an advocate for the Native American Church and helped as much as he could with their fund raising activities. He also gave back to his community of Fairchild by serving multiple times on the Fairchild Village Board and had just recently received his 25 year pin as a member of the Fairchild Lions Club.

Levi learned to cook early in life and still enjoyed preparing what ever was asked of him, with pies, soups, and ribs being some of his specialties. Levi enjoyed working with his hands and you could often find him repairing and restoring automobiles, welding fireplaces and fire pits or doing carpentry jobs. He did take time to enjoy life by attending the high school sporting events his children and grandchildren participated in, following the Green Bay Packers and Wisconsin Badgers, pitching horseshoe with family and friends, and of course hunting and fishing. A favorite past time of Levi's was riding the Harley Davidson motorcycles he had over the years. He loved traveling by cycle locally and out west, be it with a group of riders or by himself. He had several canine companions over the years but was especially close to his dog Homer.

Levi is survived by his 3 grandchildren, Jazmyn Thunder of Osseo, Brooklyn Thunder of Whitehall, Dashell (Erica) Thunder of Bismarck, North Dakota; 3 great grandchildren, Kadance, Dayton and Ciara; brothers, Gordon (Beverly) Thunder of Fairchild, and Josiah Thunder Sr. of Tomah, WI; sisters, Myrtle Long of Osseo, WI, Hope Smith of Vesper, WI, and Faye (Irwin) Begay of Black River Falls, WI; numerous nieces and nephews; sons and daughters through Ho-Chunk kinship; and many, many grandchildren and extended family, all of whom he loved and who loved him in return.

He is joined together in the spirit world with his parents, Frank and Mary; wife, Susan; sons, Jonathon, Levi Jr., Tim; daughter Darlene Thunder; sisters, Faith Matter and Charity Thunder; along with his nephew William Thunder; niece Cindy Decorah; and brothers-in-law Douglas Long and Rev. Anthony Smith.

Ho-Chunk Alumni Association

The Ho-Chunk Alumni Association has promoted education through our art endeavors, providing direction for Ho-Chunk students to grow and strengthen their self-esteem and encourage them to do their best in school.

Over the years, the HCAA has grown with the increase of artists and their art work. Despite our attempts, the HCAA will not be holding the annual art show during Memorial Weekend this year.

We are making positive changes for the Art Show in order to make these changes we have had to re-organize our association. Again, our deepest apologies for any inconveniences.

See you next year. Take care and have a great Memorial Day weekend.

Safety First for Secondhand Sales

Submitted by Jerad Albracht, WI Dept. of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection

Yard sale signs are popping up throughout Wisconsin and there are deals to be had for the bargain-inclined. Whether your chosen "storefront" is in a driveway or in an online classified ad, there are risks to consider for both buyers and sellers in the resale marketplace.

Yard sales

"To prevent risk of injury, buyers should check for recalls on the items they intend to purchase at garage sales," said Lara Sutherlin, Administrator for the Division of Trade and Consumer Protection. "This is an especially important practice when looking for children's items like cribs, gates, toys, and play yards."

The United States Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) recalls toys and other products for children each year if they have the potential of causing injury or death. Products for any age group can be recalled for a variety of reasons including fire hazards, strangulation hazards, missing warning labels, electrocution hazards, lead levels in paint, loose magnets, choking hazards, fall risks, and more.

The CPSC recently launched a mobile app that shoppers can use to search for product recalls (the app must be downloaded from the CPSC website: <https://www.cpsc.gov/data>). Having this app or the CPSC website open on your smartphone while you shop is a good practice.

Two other areas where shoppers tend to seek secondhand deals are tools and electronics. If you are shopping for battery-powered items, check the battery compartment for signs of corrosion. For electrical items, keep an eye out for frayed wires or questionable repair jobs on cords. If you are able to test these items on site, run them through their paces before you make a purchase.

Online sales

For buyers and sellers that prefer to use online classified ad sites or apps (Craigslist, Facebook Marketplace, Letgo, etc.) for their transactions, scams are a significant risk. The first step to ensuring a safe transaction is to deal locally and meet the other party face-to-face in a public location. Reach out to your local police department to see if you can handle the transaction in the station lobby or if the department has a designated "swap spot" or "safe exchange zone" (such as a parking spot with video coverage) on the station grounds. An inability or refusal to meet in person to complete a transaction, especially at a police station, is a primary sign of a scam.

Additional scam red flags to watch for when using an online classified ad service include:

- (For sellers) Vague initial inquiries, e.g. asking about "the item."
- (For buyers) Significant discounts on high-ticket items (vehicles, etc.) with a story about the owner being overseas, in the military, or involved in an accident.

- Emails or texts from someone who is not local to your area (especially if they claim to be overseas).

- Poor grammar/spelling.

- Requests for payment by wire transfer, cashier's check, money order, or prepaid debit or gift cards.

- If a buyer offers to pay you extra for an item and asks that you return the difference, you are likely facing a check scam. The check the buyer sends you is fake, and you will be responsible for the full amount withdrawn when the bank discovers the fraud. Do not cash the check.

- Beware of offers that involve shipping.
